ACCA Diploma in Accounting and Business

Exclusively for International Baccalaureate (IB)
World School students

OVERVIEW

ACCA is collaborating with the International Baccalaureate® Career-related Programme to give students from IB World Schools a solid head start in earning the ACCA Qualification, as well as for students who are just starting out on their business education journeys. This programme is the ideal way to gain an understanding of how business finance works and to open up new career possibilities – both in finance and beyond.

- Diploma in Accounting and Business - International Baccalaureate Career-related Programme:

This pathway embeds 3 of the 13 professional exams that ACCA future members need to pass in order to obtain their ACCA membership; on completing the 3 papers and the Foundations in Professionalism (FiP) module, they will be awarded ACCA's Diploma in Accounting and Business.

- ACCA Diploma in Financial and Management Accounting - International Baccalaureate Career - related Programme:

Diploma in Financial and Management Accounting on completing 2 papers and the Foundations in Professionalism (FiP) module gives students a head start on acquiring the universal language of business accounting.

Why an ACCA Diploma?

The course is globally recognised and highly regarded. The course provides the vital knowledge and skills needed by anyone working, or aspiring to work, in accountancy or finance from the age of 16 onwards.

Why should you study ACCA?

Completion of the ACCA Diploma in Accounting and Business - International Baccalaureate Career Programme allows exemption of 3 modules in the Applied Knowledge of the ACCA qualification, making it the perfect stepping stone towards the prestigious ACCA Qualification. If you are looking to explore the various fields of accounting, this is the right programme for you.

Am I eligible?

It is designed for existing IBO Career-related Programme students to complement their Career Related Studies and for those who are exploring a career in business, accounting and finance.
