(a)	Tax	evasion and tax avoida	nce
	Tax	evasion is illegal and co	nsists of seeking to mislead the t	ax authorities by	either:		1
	_	suppressing information to which they are entitled; or providing deliberately false information.
	Tax avoidance is an entirely legal activity and in the very broad sense, could include any legal method of reducing the tax burden, e.g. taking advantage of the tax deductions, reliefs and exemptions offered by the tax legislation.
(b)	On	receiving the final detern	nination, a taxable person may e	ither:
	_ _	 Within 45 days, file an hierarchical recourse to the Tax Tribunal, or Within 75 days, apply to the Supreme Court for a revision of the decision of the Director.
	The	The burden of proof that the assessment is excessive falls on the shoulders of the taxpayer.
		The taxpayer has the right to apply to the Supreme Court, after the decision of the Tax Tribunal, again within 75 days, if he feels aggrieved with its decision.
	The	The Director has no right to apply to the Supreme Court on a decision by the Tax Tribunal.
	The Tax Tribunal decides on matters of facts and on law. It can increase or reduce the assessment, uphold or declare void the assessment or it can remit the case to the Director with instructions for further actions.						1 6 10
