

EMPLOYER SERVICES

As your organisation has specifically been approved under the professional development stream, apart from the general services available to Approved Employers, you are given access to further services including:

- The professional development matrix – an online planning tool which enables your employees to identify their learning needs, choose the most effective way they learn, and identify their future career aspirations.
- The knowledge library – contains published material (including technical reports, articles in magazines, responses to consultation documents, exam questions/answers and press releases), conveniently grouped into searchable categories. The library also links to a range of very useful related external resources.
- The professional ethics module – all ACCA trainees registering from 1 January 2007 are required to complete a module in Professional Ethics prior to admission to membership. As an Approved Employer you have been given access to the online Professional Ethics Module.

Please note this access route is for DEMONSTRATION PURPOSES ONLY and cannot be used by any ACCA student, affiliate, or member. All students must access the ethics module via their own student portal which will open up access to the module, which is to be attempted whenever Paper P1, Professional Accountant (PA) is generated as an option.

To find out how to access these employer services, visit www.accaglobal.com/mhc/approved or contact your business relationship manager, who will be happy to advise you of the process.
