

GRI Readers' Choice Awards A Call to Action!

There is no judge, and no jury.
You decide which sustainability reports deserve recognition.

How to get involved

Register on <http://awards.globalreporting.org>.

Take the survey and score reports anytime before 31 December 2007.

GRI Readers' Choice Survey

Do you read sustainability reports? If not, why? If yes, what is working and what isn't about today's practice? Shape the future of sustainability reporting by participating in this survey conducted by the leading trend monitors KPMG and SustainAbility.

GRI Readers' Choice Awards

Send a signal and reward reports that are meeting your information needs. Select the sustainability reports of interest to you and score at least two against five easy-to-use attributes. The reports with the highest cumulative scores will be declared the winners in nine different categories.

Mark your calendar

Participants have the chance to win one of eight all expenses paid trips to the event of the year, The Amsterdam Global Conference on Sustainability and Transparency. From 7-9 May 2008, it will feature the GRI Readers' Choice Awards ceremony and the launch of the GRI Readers' Choice Survey report.

Do not miss this chance to shape the future of sustainability reporting by voicing your opinion today. Find more details in English, French, Japanese, Portuguese and Spanish at <http://awards.globalreporting.org> or contact awards@globalreporting.org.

The GRI Readers' Choice Awards

Powered by:

Sponsored by:

(Forward this to members of your network that would be interested. Our apologies for cross-postings)