

Press release

Member excluded from membership

On 21 January 2004, the Disciplinary Committee of the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (ACCA) considered two complaints against a member, Johnson Ofori-Aboagye, sole practitioner of Ofori-Aboagye and Company, Czar Street, Deptford, London SE8 3JL. The complaints that the member was liable to disciplinary action under bye-law 8(a)(i) and (iii) in that he:

i) carried on public practice without holding a valid practising certificate, contrary to the then Practising Regulation 3(1)(a) of the Chartered Certified Accountants' Practising Regulations 1998

and

ii) was the sole proprietor of a firm in which public practice was carried on without holding a valid practising certificate, contrary to the then Practising Regulation 3(2) of the Chartered Certified Accountants' Practising Regulations 1998 were found proved.

The Committee ordered that Mr Ofori-Aboagye should be excluded from membership and pay costs of £1,780, and that the decision should be published in the professional and local press referring to him by name.
