Member firm reprimanded

On 27 May 2004, the Disciplinary Committee of the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (ACCA) considered a complaint against a member firm. The complaint that the firm was liable to disciplinary action under bye-law 8(a)(vi) in that it had been disciplined by another professional body was found proved.

The Committee ordered that the firm should be reprimanded and pay costs of £750, and that the decision should be published in the professional press not referring to the firm by name.
