Member admonished

On 19 September 2007, the Disciplinary Committee of the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (ACCA) considered a complaint against a member. The complaint that he was liable to disciplinary action under bye-law 8(a)(i) in that on the 4 May 2006 and /or 23 May 2005 he sent e-mails, which individually and/or collectively were offensive and/or threatening, was found proved.

The Committee ordered that the member should be admonished, pay costs of £820, and that the decision should be published by issuing a press release to the professional press only not referring to him by name.
