What is ADIT

The international tax professional today has a varied background, and is expected to be increasingly mobile with an understanding of more than one taxation system. ADIT, designed by a board of world-leading experts, has been created to provide the robust foundation in international tax that today's professional needs. ADIT is an independent means of demonstrating international tax expertise at a global standard, and currently supports a growing community of students, graduates and International Tax Affiliates in over 110 countries and territories.

ADIT is a driving force in the field of international taxation and provided a real opportunity to reinforce my practical skills in international tax law, developed initially through an LL.M.

For more information on the modules, please visit www.adit.org.uk/qualificationstructure and to view the syllabi please visit www.adit.org.uk/syllabus

Extended essay

Candidates may submit an extended essay in place of one of the exam choices, consisting of 15,000 to 20,000 words on any aspect of international taxation (subject to approval). The extended essay option can only be chosen for one module and not both.

Exams held twice a year

All modules are examined each June. The most popular modules are also examined in December.

Transparent exams

Real questions and answers from previous exams are available to help with your study. Practice with previous exams will help you become familiar with the format and level of the exam, identify areas for further study and focus on exam technique.

To view past papers and suggested answers, please visit www.adit.org.uk/pastpapers

Sit on-screen exams

All students entering for June exams have the choice of sitting using either the handwritten method or by typing their answer on-screen, using purpose-built software on your own laptop. ADIT exams taking place in December are only available on-screen.
