Yes

No

MANAGEMENT BOARD

Does your firm have a management board?

Yes

No

If yes, please provide the names and qualifications of the members of the board (continue on a separate sheet if necessary)

Guidance

The firm must be controlled by audit qualified persons (ie the audit qualified persons must hold the majority of the voting rights within the firm on all, or substantially all, matters). Non-members of ACCA who wish to be classed as qualified persons must hold an appropriate qualification (eg, a UK audit qualification).

Control is assessed on the allocation of the voting rights and not just the ownership of the capital or the distribution of profits. This means that, for an incorporated firm, it is possible to issue more than one class of share so that unqualified individuals may own shares without exercising control.

If the firm is incorporated there is an additional control requirement – that the majority of votes on the board of directors (or of the members of a limited liability partnership) must be held by audit qualified persons.

A qualified person may be an individual or a body corporate. If there is a corporate principal in the firm which is critical to the balance of control it will need to be eligible for, and hold, a separate firm's auditing certificate for the UK.

If the firm is majority owned by a holding company please provide full details and a structure chart on a separate sheet.

For more information on the definition of control of a firm, please refer to Annex 1, Appendix 1, Regulation 7 of the Global Practising Regulations.

Further information about the FRC registration process is available here. Firms must complete this registration to be included on the PIE Auditor Register. Audit firms that are not registered must not undertake PIE audit work, as this would be in breach of the PIE Auditor Registration Regulations.

AC13 AUDITOR'S RESIGNATION STATEMENTS

Has the firm ceased as statutory auditor, other than for an exempt reason*, before the end of the normal term of office for any audits carried out under the Companies Act 2006 or to entities listed in s1210 of the Companies Act 2006 (eg banks, insurers, partnerships where all the partners are companies, building societies, Lloyds syndicates or limited liability partnerships)?

* 'Exempt reasons' are:

- the auditor is ceasing to practise as an auditor;
- the company is not required to be audited;
- the company is being wound up under an insolvency procedure; or
- where the company is a subsidiary of a UK parent company and its new auditor will be auditing the group accounts which will include the company concerned.

Yes No

If the answer is Yes and you have not notified ACCA (or the Financial Reporting Council in the case of 'major' audits and their subsidiaries) that you have ceased to hold office, together with the reasons, then you should do this immediately. In general, notifications are required within 28 days of the date on which the auditors statement of circumstances has been filed at the client's registered office, a copy of which should be provided with the notification. This is a requirement of s522 of the Companies Act 2006, as amended by the Deregulation Act 2015 (Commencement No 3 and Transitional and Saving Provisions) Order 2015, and non-compliance is a criminal offence.

Notifications should be sent to standards.department@accaglobal.com

Further guidance can be obtained from the FRC website here.
