No

If yes, please indicate which of the above partners/directors are members of the body

Guidance

The firm must be controlled by audit qualified persons (ie the audit qualified persons must hold the majority of the voting rights within the firm on all, or substantially all, matters). The administrative or management body of the firm must have a majority of individuals who are audit qualified or, if the body consists of only two persons, at least one of them is a qualified person and has a casting vote. Non-members of ACCA who wish to be classed as qualified persons must hold certificates that are at least equivalent in status to the ACCA practising certificate and audit qualification, and which authorise them to undertake audits in Ireland. Non-ACCA members who wish to be responsible for audit work must keep up to date in the Irish audit framework, financial reporting standards in use in Ireland and Irish and EU legislation relevant to the preparation of financial statements and to statutory audit and auditors. They must also keep CPD evidence for six years and comply with IES8 even if not currently acting as an Engagement Partner. Further information is available on our website at <https://www.accaglobal.com/gb/en/member/cpd/your-guide-to-cpd/cpd-for-practising-members.html>

Control is assessed on the allocation of the voting rights and not just the ownership of the capital or the distribution of profits. This means that, for an incorporated firm, it is possible to issue more than one class of share so that unqualified individuals may own shares without exercising control.

If the firm is incorporated there is an additional control requirement – that the majority of votes on the board of directors (or of the members of a limited liability partnership) must be held by audit qualified persons.

A qualified person may be an individual or a body corporate. If there is a corporate partner/director in the firm which is critical to the balance of control it will need to be eligible for, and hold, a separate firm's auditing certificate.
