Interim Orders Committee suspends Member's Membership

On 23 October 2026, the Interim Orders Committee of ACCA (the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants) considered imposing an interim order suspending the Membership and practising certificate of Mr Jan Tobias Louw, of Cape Town, South Africa: on the basis that it is necessary to do so in order to protect the public.

The Committee concluded that it was necessary to impose an interim order in this case and that it was appropriate that Mr Louw's Membership be suspended for eighteen months.

ACCA's regulations require ACCA to publish the Committee's findings and orders by way of a news release, as soon as practicable.

About ACCA

We are ACCA (the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants), a globally recognised professional accountancy body providing qualifications and advancing standards in accountancy worldwide.

Founded in 1904 to widen access to the accountancy profession, we've long championed inclusion and today proudly support a diverse community of over 252,500 members and 526,000 future members in 180 countries.

Our forward-looking qualifications, continuous learning and insights are respected and valued by employers in every sector. They equip individuals with the business and finance expertise and ethical judgment to create, protect, and report the sustainable value delivered by organisations and economies.

Guided by our purpose and values, our vision is to develop the accountancy profession the world needs. Partnering with policymakers, standard setters, the donor community, educators and other accountancy bodies, we're strengthening and building a profession that drives a sustainable future for all.
