You can make your booking on desktop, tablet or mobile device. It means you can now schedule your exams at a time and pace to suit you.

- Spread your exams over four sessions and maximise your chances of success.
- Fit exams around your work and personal commitments.
- Resits can be scheduled quicker – helping you to continue and progress through the qualification.

And don't forget you can now enter for two consecutive exam sessions at the same time, with dual session booking. This means that you if you plan ahead you can always take advantage of the cheapest exam fees.

ACCA Qualification – the future

We're redesigning the ACCA Qualification after an extensive, two-year review and consultation with members, employers and learning providers.

A redesigned Professional level, an innovative case study and an Ethics and Professional Skills module enhance a highly relevant qualification that will deliver the professional accountants the world needs.

We want to reassure you that you won't be disadvantaged by the changes being made. The changes are being introduced in September 2018, allowing you plenty of time to plan ahead whilst still continuing with your ACCA journey.

To help you plan ahead use our transition tool at www.accaglobal.com/exam-transition and to find out more about the changes visit www.accaglobal.com/thefuture.
