58% of respondents cite job security as a key concern

51% cite personal well-being and mental health as a worry

81% say their peer group value higher pay and a prestigious job title

57% expect to move role within two years

91% expect to update their capabilities continually to remain employable in the future

64% expect to have multiple careers in different disciplines in the future

47% think the opportunity to develop a broad range of skills is the key attraction factor for accountancy

57% say they are worried about the impact of technology on their own job opportunities in the future

48% think a great work-life balance is a key attraction factor for employment