Professional Indemnity Insurance requirements

The Chartered Certified Accountants’ Global Practising Regulations (GPRs) set out the eligibility criteria for obtaining ACCA certificates and licences. These detail the continuing obligations placed on certificate/licence holders of which professional indemnity insurance is one.

This factsheet has no regulatory status. It is issued for guidance purposes only, and in the event of any conflict between the content of this factsheet and the content of the ACCA Rulebook, the latter shall at all times take precedence. Therefore, this factsheet should not be regarded by a member as a substitute for familiarising himself or herself with the appropriate regulations or, where necessary, obtaining specific advice concerning a specific situation.

INTRODUCTION
Professional indemnity insurance (PII) policies provide cover for practitioners against claims for professional negligence. In order to ensure that practitioners have the means to meet any claims of this nature, ACCA requires all holders of practising certificates, insolvency licences, firms’ auditing certificates and firms’ investment business certificates (Ireland) to obtain a minimum level of insurance cover.

LEVELS OF COVER
The level of indemnity required by practitioners holding the above certificates/licences is calculated in relation to their annual fee income. Where a practitioner is in partnership, or has fellow directors in an incorporated firm, or employs full-time or part-time staff, cover must also include fidelity guarantee insurance (FGI).

PII should provide cover in respect of all civil liability incurred in connection with the conduct of a firm’s business by the partners (or members and designated members of a limited liability partnership), directors or employees. FGI must include cover against any acts of fraud or dishonesty by any partner, director or employee in respect of money or goods held in trust by a firm. The detailed provisions for professional indemnity insurance are set out in the GPRs. The GPRs are published in the ACCA Rulebook.

The limit of indemnity required will be dependent upon the firm’s ‘total income’ for the previous accounting year. The regulations define ‘total income’ as the aggregate of the firm’s professional charges and all other income received by the firm in the course of the firm’s business. Commissions that are retained by the business must be included in the income figure. The regulations require that the minimum limit of indemnity on PII in respect of each and every claim must be at least £50,000, and prescribe the following formulae for determining the required level of cover:

Total income of up to £200,000
The limit of indemnity on PII in respect of each and every claim must be the greatest of:
- 2.5 times the total income;
- 25 times the largest fee raised during the previous accounting year;
- £50,000.

Total income of over £200,000 and up to £700,000
The limit of indemnity on PII in respect of each and every claim must be the greatest of:
- the aggregate of £300,000 and the total income of the firm; and
- 25 times the largest fee raised during the previous accounting year.

Total income of over £700,000
The limit of indemnity on PII in respect of each and every claim must be the greatest of:
- £1 million; and
- 25 times the largest fee raised during the previous accounting year.

The ‘largest fee’ in all cases does not relate to the largest single invoice but to the highest cumulative amount of fees raised to a particular client during the year.

The annual limit of indemnity to be provided by FGI cover must be at least £50,000 in respect of each and every claim. The maximum permitted uninsured excess for PII and FGI is the lower of £20,000 per principal and 2% of the level of indemnity for each and every claim.

Persons carrying on public practice in a country other than a designated territory (the United Kingdom, the Republic of Ireland, Jersey, Guernsey and Dependencies and the Isle of Man) may comply with the minimum requirements of a recognised national body or regulatory authority in that country in respect of the limit of indemnity on PII and FGI and in respect of uninsured excess.

The regulations set the minimum level of PII required to be held by a practitioner. Practitioners should consider the risk profile of their work and their clients and determine whether or not they should carry PII in excess of the minimum required under the regulations.

MODIFICATION
If a person is unable to obtain PII or FGI complying with the GPRs and relevant Annexes or can only obtain such cover at an expense which is unreasonable, the person should notify ACCA in writing providing full details as to why they are unable to comply. The matter will be considered by the Admissions and Licensing Committee in its absolute discretion.

DOCUMENTATION
Practitioners are required to provide details of their PII and FGI policies when applying for, or renewing, certificates/licences. Practitioners must keep records of insurance claims made under the policies, and these records, and the policy itself, may be inspected by ACCA.
CESSION OF PRACTICE
Those ceasing to practise must make arrangements for the continued existence of adequate PII and FGI cover for a period of six years from the date of cessation. This is due to the fact that claims can be made at a later date for work undertaken whilst a member was in practice.

ACCEPTABLE INSURANCE COMPANIES
Responsibility for obtaining adequate cover lies with an individual practitioner and may be effected with any reputable insurance company or underwriter.
